English is Fun!

On November 14th, the teachers and the fourth-year students from the Department of Western Languages put on a successful English camp at Ban Kung Muekood School. Camp "English is Fun" was created with the intention of encouraging and inspiring younger students to learn English. The staff had put great effort and prepared fun and exciting activities such as Chicken Dances, crossword puzzles, snakes and ladders, for Phonics 4 and Mathayom 1 students. The students were cheerful and eager to learn English. They actively participated in the activities, and as a result, they gained both new knowledge and experiences. Moreover, they got to practice using English in several situations. Now, they have realized that learning English is easy and fun, and hopefully, all the experiences from this camp will motivate the younger learners to study the English language further.

BECOMING A STRAIGHT-A STUDENT

In my opinion, being a great student doesn't mean I have to put all of my effort and time on studying to get "A's". Still, I have been doing great and getting many "A's", so I would like to share my own rules that might guide you to get better grades.

Rule #1 : show up to class

Studying in class saves me time to study all by myself later. I can learn so much from just listening. I pay attention to class, take some notes, and highlight what is important. You might be surprised that I have missed only a few classes because I don't want to get behind and study it later.

Rule #2 : clarify your doubts

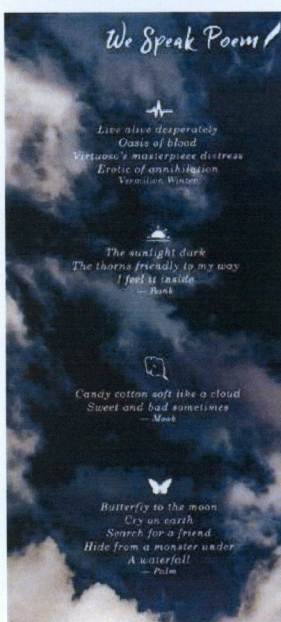

When I have questions, I always have to find the answers. This is just my curious personality which I think is a good thing. You can simply discuss with friends or ask your teacher to explain it again.

Rule #3 : get organized

I read the course syllabus to see what I have to do for the entire semester. I list the assignments and due date in my notes to know what to prioritize.

Rule #4 : read before exam

Reading when it's nearly exam time is my right option to memorize things. I go through everything especially what I noted and highlighted. I read alone and set my study areas to be free of distractions because I need to focus on one important thing.

in the end, there are no fixed rules to getting "A's". You just have to find what is best for you and how you can have balance in your life. You should live a happy life in college. Hopefully, some of these rules can be adapted to your own ways of studying.

Netflix Murder

Short bob hair, glamorous styles, red lips, and a golden pistol are the definition of Honorable Miss Phryne Fisher, the lady detective of Melbourne.

A charming, well-dressed and on-point character with a question on her mind, the cop, the girl seems to be a crime...

For now there are 4 trailers of Resident Evil 2 Remake on the official site and on YouTube that you can have a look at right now. The game will be available on PC, PlayStation 4, and Xbox One, and it is open for pre-ordering. The price for the standard edition is around 1,200 baht and 1,400 baht for the deluxe edition which includes downloadable contents, such as costumes for main characters and special guns which are only available in pre-ordering. The release date is 25 January 2019. And this is the information about this game that we have so far, and it is just 4 months away.

Let's hope that this game will be your beloved New Year's gift or just a generic zombie shooting game that is worth the price.

Love is not the key

Most literature uses love as a key to the story, but Miss Fisher is different. Related to her feminism and perspective of "Modern Woman", Miss Fisher said that "she is not a marrying kind". Even though she is attracted to the every man around her, she chooses to be independent. However, this woman is also human. One night stand relationship happens to our charming lady detective sometimes. I think this point in this series shows us that women have a right to do things as equal as men have, even the sexual things.

This show can't be a great show with only one character. The other characters are also important not only in the way of entertaining but also to show different perspectives about them interacting with the main characters. Besides Miss Fisher, you will see Dolt or Dorothy, Miss Fisher's companion. She is a cute girl who seems not to be just good at baking but also solving. Detective Investigator Jack Robinson, is a charming policeman who becomes Miss Fisher's buddy in their investigations. On the other hand, we will see the complicated relationship of one girl who is full of charisma and one beautiful, sexy girl develop in each episode as well. This point makes the show fun and romantic at the same time.

From my perspective, in every case, every society and every culture being a woman is always charming and challenging. Not just a detective who investigates the murder cases, the heroine who protects the world, or the powerful witches of Salem, but every woman has her talents and is a heroine in her own way. If you can't see it clearly, try to think of your mother and you will understand how women can be a hero in their own way without any supernatural power.

RESIDENT EVIL 2 REMAKE

The New Ticker to Raccoon City

It has been 21 years since the videogame named Resident Evil 2 was released to all of us, and we still remember how good it was when we first touched it. In June 2018, I was shocked by the trailer of the brand new remake of it, and I have high hopes that it will be the greatest game that I will ever play in 2019. Here is the information about Resident Evil 2 Remake that we have right now.

In the trailer, we will see new faces of main characters such as Leon S. Kennedy who is the rookie cop that just got to Raccoon City, but welcomed by zombie outbreak. Claire Redfield the girl that just came to look for her brother. These two characters are the persons that you have to choose to play. Moreover, there are a bunch of old characters that appeared in the old game that are still in this remake. There are also more new characters added into the games in order to get new story lines for both Leon and Claire.

Let's talk about the places of course. The story will mainly take place at the police station and underground laboratory. This new version will add more locations such as the church that appeared in the trailer, and on the city road. It will make the story longer than the old one and will make our players experience more environments of the city filled with zombie outbreaks and recall their old memories about this game.

Another significant change of this game is that the viewpoint is changed from a fixed camera. The viewpoint is not changed when players move, but it changes when you move to other settings to an over the shoulder view of the character which follows on the track, and you can change to look of anything that you want to see. This change will make both new and old players feel like they are in the same situation with their character and help all players absorb every experience in the game.

The last thing that I have to talk about is the zombies. They are a real threat that you have to fight everywhere in the game. In the gameplay trailer, you can see that they are very resistant to gun shots. Even though you shoot them in their heads, they seem not to die so easily, and get up and come to eat you. It means that you should avoid instead of fighting them so you can save a lot of ammo to use in unexpected situations.

Let The Right One In

Have you ever wondered why you haven't met your right one yet? He never appears although you will see him every day or every time. Sometimes it makes you so frustrated with his love.

Nowadays, social media makes our lives easier and you can meet someone new by app. I am talking about the applications like Tinder, SKOO, or Happon. In my opinion, these applications are quite good because it gives me a chance for talking with someone that I am interested in. I can choose the person who I want to talk with by swiping right on the Tinder app. If that person also likes me, both of us are a match. Then, I can start a conversation. However, everything has good points and bad points so it is very easy to build this kind of relationship. By the way, it is also easy to end the relationship. Anyway, I have more easy ways to find the right one. There are four easy ways.

First, you have to be concerned about yourself first. I mean you have to love yourself and take care of yourself because guys like the girl who loves herself and is herself. I think everyone knows the ways to love yourself and be good with yourself, but let me give you some examples. You should get enough sleep, go out for exercise and eat fruits and vegetables. Besides, you have to love yourself before you love anyone else. You will know this way to treat other people.

Second, you should be yourself as much as you can. What is the meaning of being yourself? Believe everybody knows it. Sometimes being yourself is hard because you try to be what other people think of you, and you are afraid that no one will like the real you. However, I want you to know that being yourself will never hurt you. Let's say you are dating someone, and you try to be the girl that he likes. I'm sure that it might make him happy, but you won't be. Some day you care of yourself to be the girl anyone, it will lead to an end of your relationship. Just be yourself at the beginning; let him love you the way you are.

Next, you should take your time with what you love to do. I want you to know something. The girl who has passion in her life is very attractive, sexy and interesting. Moreover, if you go somewhere or do something that you like, the odds are higher that you will meet your right one. Noah Centineo, my favorite actor, said, "I'd much rather meet someone randomly, like out doing something that I love to do, because if you are out doing something that you love to do and you meet someone doing something they love to do then you're doing things you love to do of the same place. Then the odds are you like the same things and you have similar interests to talk about."

Last, please bear in mind that I get the good right one, you should not only be concerned with how he treats you, but you should also be concerned how he treats other people. The right one is the person who makes you feel happy and he will love everything about you. For example you are so weird sometimes when you wake up that your bear face is very terrible. Whatever, he will say love you, and he will always stand by you. I hope you guys will find him soon.

"The way to find the right one is making him find you."

Q & A
ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE

Q : What is literature?

A : Pieces of writing that are valued as works of art, especially novels, plays and poems (in contrast to technical books and newspapers, magazines, etc.)
- translated by Oxford Dictionary

Q : What about this course?

A : It's relatively intensive about writing, reading such as poems and novels, and drama for 3rd year students.

Q : If I have no experience with writing, can I study in this track?

A : Many freshmen asked me the same question. Some students feel afraid that they can't study in this track because they think it is too hard. But it's not true because each track is created for the interest of each student. This track isn't related to your previous performance. Don't worry about your ability. If you love, you do!

Q : Does it use GPA or not?

A : No

Q : When do I choose literature track?

A : 2nd year students choose in mid-October.

Q : If I don't know what I like and what to choose, what should I do?

A : First, ask yourself (don't follow what your friends choose). Second, do you want to learn deep literature? Third, are you bored to analyze literature such as a paragraph writing and an essay, reading poem and novel? If no, then you should study in literature track.

Q : Why do you study in literature track?

A : I have a passion about literature. When I was young, I really liked to write anything such as novels, poems, short stories and also read novels or anything. So I wanted to be a writer. I had many ideas to create something and analyze about movies and stories. After I heard that I had to choose track, I quickly decided because of my heart. Now, I really enjoy studying what I want to learn in this course. I promised myself that I will improve my work in literature.
